Marines Sent to Guard New York Navy Yard by Secretary Daniels.

New York, May 15.—The sending of de-tachments of marines from the New York Navy Yard by the Secretary of the Navy to guard the United States naval depots at Iona Island, near Peekskill, Y., and at Lake Denmark, near Dover, N. J., is the latest of a number of precautions that have been taken by the War and Navy departments to protect depots of ammunition since the sinking f the Lusitania. There have been several mysterious rivate plants which have been manufacturing arms and ammunition for the allies, and it was reported today that information was in the pessession of the Federal authorities of a plot to destroy the government stores.

No verification of this report could be obtained, and officers at the Brooklyn Navy Yard when asked if any threats had been made against government prop erty, said they were not at liberty to discuss the matter.
